For the use of textual and visual material, hereinafter referred to as material, under www.stantonamarlberg.com, the following Conditions of Use and the General Terms and Conditions of the St. Anton am Arlberg Tourism Association shall apply.

Intended purpose/applications

The material under www.stantonamarlberg.com is only released for free use when in connection with editorial representations (no advertising) of holiday destinations of the St. Anton am Arlberg region. Any other use of the material is not permitted. A fundamental change to the central sense of the picture (composite illustrations, etc.) is not permitted.

Rights (copyright, rights of use, exclusive rights)

The material used always remains the property of the originator. The material is in principle only released for the intended purpose stated. The granting of exclusive rights and retention periods demands a separate agreement and release certificate. The user himself is not permitted to transfer the rights ceded to him to third parties. He may not pass on the material in any form or offer it for use or distribution in online systems. The passing on of material to companies which are commissioned by the user with the production of the publication (newspaper, magazine, website, etc.) shall be excluded.

Cancellation

The St. Anton am Arlberg Tourist Association reserves the right to cancel for good reason the granting of user rights. The user undertakes in this case to make no further publications. Finished products, insofar as they appeared after these Conditions of Use, may be further distributed.

Copyright notice

The user is obligated to identify the writer/photographer or the owner of the user rights. The information is to be recorded in the index or the picture caption and below the text. When using within a website, a link or reference to www.stantonamarlberg.com is to be inserted.

Voucher copies

The user shall send at his own expense a full voucher copy to "MARKETING Tourismusverband A-6850 St. Anton am Arlberg". In the case of use on the internet, the URL/domain of the website is to be disclosed.

Liability/Compensation

The information provided is produced to the best of our knowledge and belief. The St. Anton am Arlberg Tourist Association assumes no liability for errors in the documents/files or for resultant system errors.

In the case of breach of the Conditions of Use, the St. Anton am Arlberg Tourist Association can demand that the user withdraw at its own expense the products containing the material and cease distribution. The St. Anton am Arlberg Tourist Association and the writers/photographers reserve the right to claim compensation.
